

Knowledge to Action Meets Tony Blair

Greg Secker, CEO of Knowledge to Action, Europe's number one trader coaching company, has spoken alongside Tony Blair at the National Achiever's Congress in Singapore.

The Congress was held between the 27th and 29th of April and drew many high profile and prestigious names. It has invited world-class speakers from around the globe for the last 18 years, uniting them in highlighting and celebrating their successes.

Tony Blair attended as a featured presenter and addressed issues surrounding today's economy and where the world is heading in the next 5 years. It was a huge honour for Secker to be selected alongside such other guests and a great acknowledgement for Knowledge to Action.

The company founded the award-winning Traders University programme and its stock market training course has launched many private traders since it began in 2004. In 2008, the company launched their Ultimate Forex Profits course, which is continuing to gain popularity. Many graduates claim they have gained enormous financial independence from these courses. It is a fantastic achievement for the business to have helped to launch the careers of these graduates.

Greg is now a familiar face at such events, regularly presenting alongside well renowned personalities such as Robert Kiyosaki. He is considered to be an expert in the forex and stock markets and is respected within the industry. Meanwhile, he is also often called upon to contribute in many publications and other media sources, such as The Guardian (UK), City AM (UK) Square Mile (UK) and CNBC where he can use his extensive knowledge to inform and advise.

Knowledge to Action continues to go from strength to strength with testimonials from graduates praising the effectiveness of the course, which they recommend highly with many seeing results almost immediately after completion in generating significant streams of income through trading.

It is a hugely efficient way of gaining knowledge about the subject for those who hold an interest in it and generating some serious money, so for those who have always pondered how the market works it is recommended as one of the best ways to find out about it. The acclaimed forex training claims to show traders how to identify, execute and automate very high profit, yet low risk trades.
