Knowledge to Action CEO Greg Secker to join Branson and Robbins at Sydney success forum

Knowledge to Action CEO Greg Secker has been selected to speak alongside Richard Branson and Anthony Robbins at the Ultimate Success Summit in Sydney on September 10-11.

The founder of Europe's largest trader coaching company will urge hundreds of delegates to seize the opportunity to learn trading techniques that will enable them to generate an income from home.

Greg will be one of a dozen 'Success All-Stars' speaking at the event, which aims to inspire a new generation of entrepreneurs by explaining proven wealth-generating strategies.

A sought-after speaker and highly experienced trader in his own right, Greg is looking forward to sharing the stage with other leading entrepreneurs from the UK, the USA and Australia.

Greg said: "The outstanding success of our UK coaching programmes has enabled us to expand internationally and provide people all over the world with the learning and skills to become financially independent. That's why I established Knowledge to Action in the first place and that's why I still find this business so exciting.

"We were extremely pleased to launch our first office in Australia earlier this year so I'm delighted to be going back there to raise awareness of what we do and ultimately help those people who are seeking a new way of life to achieve their ambitions."
