

Multi-millionaire wealth mentor speaks in SA

MULTI-MILLIONAIRE wealth mentor and master trader Greg Secker visited South Africa in March to share his secrets of wealth creation.

More than 3 000 people attended his Millionaire Forex Trader Secrets seminars that were held in Cape Town and Johannesburg.

Students who bought the course will then attend an intensive two-day workshop where they learn the key strategies of trading and how to read the movements of the currency markets.

The techniques are simple and can be taught to complete beginners.

We caught up with a recent South African graduate, Anni Hennop, who was so inspired by Greg Secker's talks, she flew to London ahead of the training in South Africa to experience the live trading and coaching first hand.

Anni says: "There are turning points in one's life and meeting Greg Secker turned out to be my financial watershed experience. His technology and strategies have turned me into a Forex trader in under a week, doing my trades with confidence but at the same time with minimum risk."

Now an internationally recognised speaker, Greg is regularly invited to speak alongside the renowned authors of Rich Dad, Poor Dad, Secrets of the Millionaire Mind and Wolf of Wall Street.

Be a millionaire in the making

Knowledge to Action spokesperson

WANT to learn how to be a millionaire? For the first time ever Greg Secker visits South Africa to teach you the secrets to do exactly that.

Master trader, entrepreneur, maverick, philanthropist and international speaker are just a few of the terms used to describe the force that is Greg Secker. A multi-millionaire by his 20s, he has gone on to create and run one of England's most successful companies, and blazed a path for the everyday-man in the street to walk towards financial freedom. A visionary, Greg is proud to own Europe's top trader coaching company, but his passion lies in not only sharing the knowledge but also empowering people to take action.

Proven strategies

Greg teaches people to make an immediate income from trading the stock and currency markets. He has proven strategies that work and, as a result, has not only made himself a very rich man, but has also helped many others to do the same. In the past eight years, more than 90 000 people have attended Knowledge to Action's trading seminars, where they learn how to produce a second or replacement income trading the markets. Ninety percent of these people are literally the man in the street – complete beginners often starting with less than R15 000 to build upon.

At the age of 24, Greg was a vice president at a major Fortune 500 investment bank where he worked with some of the best Forex traders in the world. Using the same trading strategies discovered on these floors, Greg's personal trading account grew to the extent where it allowed him to make a choice: stay or leave. Already a now wealthy man, Secker decided to retire at the age of 27 to set up his own trading floor. With interest from family and friends, Greg started to share the "secrets" of his trading success. Before he knew it, in just three short months, Knowledge to Action was born.

Supporting a good cause

Drawing inspiration from talking alongside Sir Richard Branson and Anthony Robbins at last year's Ultimate Success Summit in Australia to a crowd of 8 000 people, Greg set up the Knowledge to Action Foundation to support the Ubuntu Education Fund in Port Elizabeth, where he launched the Flying Trader project, encouraging trading do-gooders to follow his trade calls from 300m, from a virtual trading floor aboard a purpose-built helicopter.

Now, he's coming to Cape Town and he wants to encourage South Africans to learn the skills he has taught thousands and participate in the flying trader project to actively support this important local charity cause.
